NEW SUPER FOR ANCHO-ERIE MINE

NEVADA CITY: Fred Anderson, managing owner of the Ancho-Erie Mine near Washington, has announced that Thomas A. Monahan, formerly with the Bradley Mining Co. is his new superintendent.

Both mills are now running at the Ancho-Erie, milling over 200 tons per day.

About 44 men are at present employed, mostly on a contract basis.

THREE WEDDINGS ON ST. VALENTINE'S DAY

GRASS VALLEY: Three weddings took place in Grass Valley on St. Valentine's Day, February 14th. Miss Rita Kene, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William B. Kane, was married to Jack Becker of Milwaukee, Wisconsin, in St. Patrick's Catholic Church, Rev. Patrick O'Reilly officiated.

Miss Alpha Linn was married in the Methodist Church to George McCartney, and Miss Constance Crispin was wedded to Victor Crawford in the same church on the same day.

At the marriage of Miss Rita Kane and Jack Becker, Mrs. Gil Leland of San Francisco was matron of honor, and her husband was best man. The bridegroom is a veteran of World War II and is now studying for his master's degree in the University of Wisconsin. Following his graduation in June the couple will return to Grass Valley to live. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Becker of Milwaukee.

Miss Alpha Linn and George McCartney were married by Rev. Donald Getty in the Methodist Church at 11 o'clock, February 14th. Best man was Hubert Dorsey, and Jean Schmidt was maid of honor.

Miss Constance Crispin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Boise Crispin of 150 High Street, and Victor Crawford of Colfax, Placer County, were married by Rev. Getty in the afternoon of February 14th.

The best man was a brother of the bridegroom, Frank Crawford. The bride was attended by her three sisters, Elva, Doris and June Crispin.

At the reception in Wesley Hall 300 guests were present. The couple will reside in Colfax, where the bridegroom is employed in the Bank of America.

Forest View Interment For Mrs. Josephine Evans

phine Vilema Evans, 91, will be borne to rest this afternoon at 2 P.M., with services at Holmes Funeral Home and Rev. Russell Lincoln of the Methodist Church officiating. Mrs. Charles Elliott has been asked to be soloist, and Gordon Vance, organist. "The End Of A Perfect Day" and "The Old Rugged Cross" will be rendered.

Interment in Forest View Cemetery will follow.

She was born in Chips' Flat, Sierra County, and spent her life in California. For many years she lived in Alleghany, Sierra County.

She is survived by one daughter, Laura Florence Owens of Nevada City, and three granddaughters: Josephine Gordon, Nevada City; Mrs. Evelyn Foos, Oakland and Mrs. Hilda Previtali of Kennewick, Washington.

Eight great-grandchildren and 11 great-great-grandchildren are also bereaved.

Homes Funeral Home is handling the services. Burial will be at Forest View Cemetery.

The Nugget Shopper Salutes

Bud Erich Braunlich

Today the Nugget Shopper Salutes Bud Erich Braunlich, a civic-minded business man who has great faith in the economic future of the Grass Valley-Nevada City business area. Braunlich predicts that the lumber industry will produce for 30 years in this area, and that present indications prove that the mines will soon open up again.

The subject of our thumbnail biography has the distinction of being the only man in California thrice elected to be commander of his American Legion Post. Braunlich heads the Forest Hill Post.

He is also a member of the Grass Valley Elks, Captain (for two years in succession) of the Sheriff's Posse, and a member of the San Francisco Aerie of Eagles, and the Nevada City Sportsmen's Club.

An interesting career has led Braunlich through active duty in two wars and a succession business experience.

Braunlich was born in Ashland, Wisconsin on October 4, 1948. He attended school there, and at the age of 13 matriculated at the University of Wisconsin. He completed two years there and transferred to the University of Minnesota.

After he completed the third year of college, while still at the tender age of 16, the National Guard unit to which he belonged was activated, and soon sent overseas.

Braunlich served with merit in the famed Rainbow Division. His unit was the 151st Field Artillery, which saw spirited action in the battle of Verdun.

He was honorably discharged in February, 1919. For a time he worked as Superintendent for Montgomery Ward, but in 1922 moved to San Francisco, where he was employed by Eloesser-Heineman.

In 1936, Braunlich married Phay Oudin of San Francisco. They reside in the new 7-room house, just completed on Ridge Road. There are two little Braunlichs, Sharon Elizabeth, 4, and James Erich, 10 months.

In 1942, Braunlich, who was 41 at the time, was drafted. He served in Ordinance at the Aberdeen Proving Ground — testing aviation ordinance.

After his second stretch in the Army, Braunlich came to Nevada City, where he opened the Town Talk Service Station and Grocery. In addition to Standard Oil products, Braunlich carries on a growing general grocery and beer and wine trade.

Make Extra Gifts By Baking Goodies In Home Kitchens

Cookies make a wonderful holiday gift! Wrapped as glamorously as these, they'll solve many a last-minute gift dilemma. Set a box under the tree as an extra gift, or take a box of them to your neighbor.

These are extra-wonderful days in the kitchen, for there's a hustle and bustle of activity, warmth and cheer, mysterious smells of something good and the swish of gay and cheery wrapping paper and ribbons.

Yes, we're getting ready for Christmas. But it's not just the holiday feast we're preparing for, since kitchens also may be put to work to make those wonderful home-made presents every homemaker appreciates so much.

Of particular interest are cookies and candies. You'll want to make some of your own for the holidays, so why not whip together an extra batch and give some to neighbors and friends? There's no better way of expressing warmth and cheer than something made by deft hands and a heart-load of good wishes.

Here's a taste-tempting cookie you'll want to include in your cookie collection:

Henrecies.
(Makes 2½ dozen 2-inch cookies)

- ½ cup butter or substitute
- ½ cup brown sugar
- 2 egg yolks
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- 2 cups cake flour
- 1 teaspoon baking powder
- 1 cup ground nut meats
- ½ cup whole bran

Blend butter and sugar; add beaten egg yolks and flavoring. Sift flour, baking powder; add nut meats. Combine with first mixture. Chill. Form dough into egg-shaped balls. Roll in whole bran which has been crushed slightly. Place on greased baking sheet. Bake in a moderately hot (400 degree) oven for 10 minutes. Note: Whole bran may be added to the cookie dough instead of rolling cookies in whole bran.

Chocolate Drops.
(Makes 2½ dozen 2-inch cookies)

- ¼ cup butter or substitute
- ¾ cup brown sugar
- 1 egg, beaten
- 1½ squares chocolate
- 3 tablespoons water
- ¼ cup sour milk
- 1 cup whole bran
- 1 cup flour
- 1 teaspoon baking powder
- ¼ teaspoon soda
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- ½ cup chopped nut meats

Cream butter and sugar, add egg, melted chocolate and water. Beat well, then add sour milk and whole bran. Sift flour with baking powder, soda and salt and add to first mixture with the nut meats. Drop from teaspoon onto a greased baking sheet. Bake in a moderate (375 degree) oven for 15 minutes.

Date Favorites.

- ¾ cup butter or substitute
- 1½ cups sugar
- ½ teaspoon soda
- 2 tablespoons water
- 1 cup buttermilk
- 3 cups flour
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon baking powder
- 1 cup nuts, chopped
- 1 cup dates, chopped
- Powdered sugar

Cream butter and sugar. Mix soda with water and add to the butter-milk. Add flour sifted with salt and baking powder. Fold in nuts and dates. Pour into a shallow, greased pan and bake 20 minutes at 350 degrees. Cut into narrow slices while still warm and roll in powdered sugar.

Ice Box Cookies.

- 1 cup brown sugar
- ½ cup butter
- 1 egg, unbeaten
- 1½ cups flour
- ½ teaspoon cream of tartar
- ½ teaspoon soda
- ½ cup pecans, cut fine
- ½ teaspoon vanilla

Cream sugar and butter well together. Add the egg, flour, cream of tartar and soda. Mix well and fold in nuts and vanilla. Make into rolls about 2 inches in diameter and wrap each in waxed paper. Let stand in refrigerator for 24 hours. Then unwrap rolls and slice about ⅛ inch thick. Bake on an ungreased cookie sheet in a moderate oven (350 degrees) for about 8 minutes, or until golden brown.

Fudge Squares.
(Makes 36)

- 2 squares unsweetened chocolate
- ½ cup butter or substitute
- ¼ cup light corn syrup
- ¾ cup sugar
- ½ teaspoon salt
- 1½ teaspoons vanilla
- 2 cups quick oats, uncooked
- ¼ cup chopped nut meats

Melt chocolate and butter in top of double boiler. Add remaining ingredients, blending thoroughly. Pack firmly into an 8-inch square pan. Sprinkle a few chopped nuts on top if desired. Bake in a hot oven (425 degrees) for 12 minutes. When cool, turn out of pan and cut in squares. Store in refrigerator if warm.

Of Yuletide sweets, there are none tastier than home-made candies. With just a few ingredients and tested recipes you can concoct some delectable treats and gift-wrap them for Christmas presents.

Brazil Nut Patties.

- ½ cup syrup
- ½ cup sugar
- ½ cup water
- ½ pound brazil nut meats

Combine ingredients. Cook to 290 degrees or the crack stage. Pour carefully over brazil nuts arranged over a marble slab. Loosen patties before they become too hard to prevent them from cracking.

Maple Creams.

- 1 cup maple sugar
- 1 cup light brown sugar
- ¼ cup water
- ½ teaspoon almond extract
- ½ pound nut meats

Cook the sugars and water to 240 degrees or the soft ball stage. Add the almond extract and cool to lukewarm. Then beat until creamy. Knead until smooth, form into small balls and place a nut meat in each ball.

Stuffed Marshmallows.

- 1 box marshmallows
- ¼ pound nuts (whole meats)

Lay the marshmallows out on a table and, with a sharp knife, make a gash into the center of each. Push a nut meat (English walnut, pecan, hickory or peanut) into this opening, and press marshmallow closed with fingers. They may be dipped in chocolate if desired.

Tossed Salad — Wheat Bread
Baked Pears — Beverage
*Ice Box Cookies
*Recipe given.

LYNN SAYS:

Serve Hors d'ouevres With Hot Vegetable Juice

Cheese spears are easy to make, nice to nibble with hot tomato juice. Spear a cube of American cheese on a toothpick, with a walnut half and a slice of sweet pickle.

Pineapple spears go well with hot cider. Spear a cube of pineapple, then a cube of sharp cheddar cheese and top with a cherry.

Marinate asparagus tips and roll in thin slices of cooked ham. Chill.

Some mixtures can be formed into balls and speared with a toothpick: Mash anchovy paste with cream cheese, and season with worcestershire sauce and cayenne pepper.

Celery Balls: One cup of minced celery, 3 ounces of cream cheese, with salt and pepper. Roll in chopped parsley.

Green Balls: One-half cup grated swiss cheese, ½ cup minced ham, ½ teaspoon prepared mustard, 1 egg yolk (raw) and salt. Roll in minced chives or parsley.

Funeral In Oakland For Frank Loehr Well-Known Engineer

GRASS VALLEY: Frank Loehr, one of Grass Valley's early day marshals, and chief of police, died Friday morning in a local hospital. Funeral services will take place in Oakland in the chapel of Grant D. Miller. The body was prepared for burial by the Myers Mortuary Chapel of this city. The cause of death was a heart attack.

Loehr was a native of Washington, 17 miles east of Nevada City, and was aged 87 years. He had returned to Grass Valley to live with his daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Warner on the Ridge Road.

The early life of the deceased was spent in hydraulic mines. He became an experienced, practical hydraulic engineer, operating such famous diggings as the Malakoff, near North Bloomfield and other large hydraulic workings. Later he worked in the Idaho Maryland Mine. After serving as Grass Valley's marshal, he went to Oakland in 1900 and became an expert refrigeration engineer, one of the top men in planning and installing refrigeration service in the larger markets of Oakland, Berkeley, and in Honolulu.

Loehr was an early day members of E. Clampus Vitus. Surviving him are a daughter, Mrs. W. H. Warner, Grass Valley, and a son, Verne Loehr of Klamath, Ore. There are five grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

HIGH SCHOOL LAD TEARS UP TURF, LANDS IN COURT

GRASS VALLEY: A high school boy, whose name was not divulged, had plenty of fun in using his 1947 model car to race back and forth across the James S. Hennessy Field, cutting up antics and ripping the turf after the recent rains.

Following his apprehension he was taken before Judge James Snell in juvenile court proceedings. His mother was present. Judge Snell suspended his driver's license for 90 days, gave him six months probation, and told the lad's mother that she and the boy's father would be required to pay the cost of mending the gridiron turf.

LOCAL LADIES HAVE HOBBY DAY WITH DOLL

NEVADA CITY: Yesterday a group of hobbyists from other cities, interested in doll collections, came to Nevada City as guests of Vivian Barnes, Maudie Shaw and Lenore Coughlin, local collectors.

The visitors and hostesses assembled in the forenoon at the Barnes home and enjoyed Mrs. Barnes' collection of French Fashion dolls. They then all went to the Deer Creek Inn where they were served a delicious luncheon in the homey atmosphere around the hearth fire.

The group then visited Mrs. Coughlin's home and admired her foreign and domestic dolls. They then gathered at Mrs. Shaw's to see her collection of French Fashion and mechanical dolls.

Those in attendance were Mesdames Mary Ready, Anna Lien, Vedah Affleck, Mignonette Merserau, Hazel Loder, Lura Inks, Gladys Martin and Florence Stradon, all from Sacramento; Ila Chenot of Detroit, Mich.; Ethel Chase and Martha Farnsworth of Lincoln, Olive Hickey of Live Oak; Gladys Cross of Grass Valley; and the three hostesses.

V.F.W. DANCE SATURDAY

NEVADA CITY: The Banner Mountain Post of VFW are sponsoring a free dance on Saturday, February 28th, at the newly renovated Seaman's Lodge in Nevada City.

Red Nichols and his 49'ers will furnish the music. Spectators and dancers are cordially invited to attend.

Music from the dance will be broadcast from Station KGFN for approximately one hour.

Funeral For Joseph L. Jefford, Noted Cornish Wrestler

GRASS VALLEY: Funeral services will be held today, February 24th, in the Hooper and Weaver Mortuary, for Joseph L. Jefford, who died Friday night in the Nevada County Hospital. Rev. Frank Buck of the Episcopal Church will conduct the services. Interment will be in the Odd Fellows Cemetery.

Jefford was born in Cornwall, England, 76 years ago. He lived in Grass Valley for the past 19 years. As a young man he traveled about the country as wrestler and boxer and was particularly expert in Cornish wrestling. He spent much of his time in eastern boxing circles and at one time acted as technical advisor to Jack Dempsey. While head of the physical training department of the University of Pennsylvania he knew James L. Corbett and Bob Fitzsimmons.

When he came to Grass Valley in 1929 with his late brother, William R. Jefford, he purchased a small ranch on the Auburn-Grass Valley Highway and raised poultry. He did much to promote Cornish wrestling and boxing among local sportsmen. He leaves his nephew, R. L. Jefford, business man of this city.

Surprise Stork Shower For Mrs. Pat Schaefer

NEVADA CITY: A surprise stork shower was tendered Mrs. Pat Schaefer at the home of Mrs. Josephine Bock one day last week with a large number of guests attending.

Paper bassinettes in blue and white, filled with gifts adorned the table. The cakes were decorated in the St. Valentine motif.

Mesdames Rhoda Roberts, Benetta Luzmoor, Mary Pescola, Edith Oats, Thelma Painter, Bernice Moffet, Etta Richards, Alire Jenkins, Peggy Milnarich, Erma Mendosa, Faye Scharch, Lillian Tryon, Emily Bates, Mae Crane and Miss Marge Mendosa, were the guests.

The diversion was cards.

Letters for Special Delivery

Mr. Samuel Goldwyn,
Hollywood, Calif.

Dear Sam: You are the movie fans choice for president. Your recent statement that the double feature is driving a lot of people from the movie houses does it. That this should come from a movie magnate floors me, although the papers say you have long held that the bargain-basement-second-helping nicolette was doing the business no good.

Well, you are right as rain, Sam, and I don't mean that new scientific rain. The double feature too often is just a substitute for sleeping pills, and it is not much good for that, as the pills are easier to take. The whole theory of one good picture and one stinkeroo is boring the customers, causing widespread cries of "How can Hollywood do this to me?" and developing an "include me out" attitude toward magic lantern shows.

Did Barnum give two shows a night, one with elephants and one with mice? Would the legit theater ever get anywhere by producing "Oklahoma" and "Uncle Tom's Cabin" on the same night program? Would baseball draw more customers to the Yankee stadium if the customers had to sit through a game between the married and single men before the main dish? Would horse racing be more popular if they put on bicycle sprints and a clambake?

If it is a good idea to dish up Ingrid Bergman, Kate Hepburn or Myrna Loy on the same program with Squarehead Whoozis in one of those cold storage Westerns or terrible interludes which Hollywood has come to think of as comedy "shorts," it is a good idea to serve fish cakes with a breast of pheasant, force every buyer of a distinguished novel to buy a book about mushroom growing at home and make everybody at a Miss America contest first sit through a demonstration in sweater knitting.

I like movies, Sam, but I don't like limburger on the same program. No more than pigs feet with ice cream. I can get my sleep easier than that. And I can keep my disposition better if I give up trying to find out what time the main feature goes on but always getting to the movie just as the "smelly" is starting. Keep fighting, Sam. A big part of the movie public is with you. The other folks are just quantity buyers and folks who are hiding from the police.

Yours, Elmer.

What Can Ail the Kiddies?

"FOSSTON, MINN. — Two boys, aged 8 and 10, armed with six rifles and 10,000 rounds of ammunition which they stole from a sporting goods store, terrorized this town recently. They fired on homes, automobiles, gas stations and a tourist camp, holding off a sheriff's posse for hours and twice eluding it. The children had a record of a previous arrest for overturning 26 tombstones in a cemetery."—News Item.

Golly, how do you suppose children ever get ideas like that? No coaching, please!

It baffles us. Surely the national idolatry of cheap, tawdry, self advertising characters parading all over the national scene wouldn't have anything to do with it. Kids wouldn't be influenced, would they, by the fact that those who flaunt rules of decent behavior are glamourized?

Naw! Let's not be silly. Whenever you read of mere babies slugging, leering, shooting and throat-slitting these days it is simply due to the fact mommer allowed them to sit in a draft when infants. Popper refused Junior a Rolls Royce for Christmas. And the milk was short of vitamins. Next case, Mr. Psychiatrist! And will you take the stand, too, Mr. Balonus-Balonus?

• • •

Christian Science Church

Christian Science Society of Nevada City holds services every Sunday in their church at 114 Boulder Street at 11 o'clock.

Sunday school at 9:45 a.m. Wednesday evening testimonial meetings are held on the first and third Wednesdays of each month at 8 o'clock.

Our Reading Room is in the church foyer. It is open Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, holidays excepted, from 2 to 4 p.m. The public is cordially invited to attend our services and visit the Reading Room.

"Christ Jesus" is the subject of the Christian Science Lesson-Sermon for Sunday, February 29. The Golden Text is taken from Psalms: "Thou art fairer than the children of men: grace is poured into thy lips: therefore God hath blessed thee for ever" (45:2).

Included in the sermon are the following citations:

Psalms: "Then said I, Lo, I come: in the volume of the book it is written of me, I delight to do thy will, O my God: yea, thy law is within my heart" (40: 7, 8).

"Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Christ presents the indestructible man, whom Spirit creates, constitutes, and governs. Christ illustrates that blending with God, his divine Principle, which gives man dominion over all the earth".

Just Wonderin'

I Wonder about foolish things,
Inconsequential and absurd,
Stray bits of humerous prose or verse,
A limerick or twisted word;
They're not important, that I own,
Still, aren't they very much worth while
If they provoke in these grim days
Our carefree laughter or a smile?

I Wonder about that eerie thing called memory. Some Hindus call it the other side of our heads, psychologists refer to it as the content of our subconscious minds. Be that as it may, memory holds many precious things which we should in no wise forget and it tucks away much of the nonsensical as we journey along through the years.

We delight to remember facts of world history, biographies of great men, inspiring passages of prose and verse from the words of our favorite authors; we are glad that these things linger in our minds and that we can call upon them in moments of thought and action for the lessons they teach and the inspirational power to guide and direct. Yes, we are proud of our ability to recall things that are noble and of good repute, but often in our remembering moments, wispy bits of nonsense drift into our minds and it is wise to pause, enjoy them and gain momentary respite from the "cares that infest the day."

"A bit of nonsense now and then is relished by the best of men." Earth's greatest and wisest have recognized the truth of that assertion and profited by it; Lincoln in the midst of heart breaking cares paused often to tell a little story. Our Teddy sought relaxation in thrilling mystery stories and Woodrow Wilson was in the habit of reading the same sort of fiction and finding in it, brief surcease from the cares of state.

Many of our greatest poets wrote foolish lines and these we should preserve for their smile provoking powers. We all recall Longfellow's "little girl who had a little curl right in the middle of her forehead."

During the recent prolonged dry spell, I recalled a rhyme written by Robert Burdette; It ran after this fashion:

"I Wonder why the folk who live
Where kindly Pluvius often fails,
Do not, instead of digging wells,
Just keep a little flock of whales;
Because a little flock of whales
Would spout up water all day long."

Let's make an effort to recall a few funny little jingles or bits of nonsensical prose and keep them in mind for use when we are tempted to think that gaiety, humor and wit are loosing face in the presence of the grim realities of the day.

Let us remember the example of our own Lincoln and lighten our heavy burdens by moments of laughter, let's, in the words of a great Roman poet, take time occasionally to be "somewhat insane, "Let's form the habit of, whenever and wherever possible—having fun.

Iva Kitchell, Satirical Ballet Dancer, Plays Sacramento Friday

SACRAMENTO: Iva Kitchell, the American dance satirist known for her hilarious "take-offs" on ballet, modern dance, and traditional forms of terpsichore, will appear in the Sacramento college auditorium Friday evening, February 27, as a Sacramento Music Series attraction.

The dancer, whose antics were publicized last month in Life magazine under the title, "The Balmy Ballerina", first started to satirize the dance a few years ago while she was engaged by the Chicago Opera ballet. Instead of scolding her, her ballet master gave her a comedy spot. Last November she appeared in a solo recital in Carnegie Hall, which "spoofed" all kinds of dancing from Isadora Duncan classical creations to Martha Graham's modern dances.

Tickets for the Iva Kitchell dance concert are available at the Ware-Hazelton box office, Weinstock-Lubin's. The program will start at 8:30 p.m.

City Superintendent Kenneth Manuel told of trees removed, sewer pipes cleaned and about cleaning and repairing the reservoir site. The city crew also fixed the roof of the Memorial Park club house.

Systematic mining of coal was first undertaken in the 15th century in theNewcastle district and on the Firth of Forth, in England.

Gossip By THE SHOPPER

DAILY RITUAL at Jerry Girard's Grass Valley Furniture Co. is matching coins to see who buys cokes all around in Harold Hampton's public market next door. Seems like Chet and Ronnie always lose. (Jerry has one double-headed coin and one double-tailed, maybe.) To Girard goes credit for originating this column. It was his idea, and it took him quite a while to get the Shopper on the ball enough to use it.

LUMBER DEMAND and SUPPLY

The supply of lumber was not sufficient to meet the high demand during the third quarter of 1947, the Lumber Survey Committee advised the Secretary of Commerce in its 66th Quarterly Report. The month-by-month increase in building upset the near-balance existing in the market at the end of the second quarter.

Lumber prices, which had shown signs of stabilization in May and June, especially in the common grades, increased month by month during the summer, and by September 30 reached a record high. Premium prices are frequently offered for quick delivery.

Building activity has shown a steady increase since the beginning of the year. September, with 92,000 new homes started, broke all previous records for a single month and preliminary estimates indicate that an equal number of new homes were started in October.

Freight car shortages have seriously hampered the shipment of lumber during the summer and fall months, especially in the West Coast region. Coastwise and intercoastal steamer space available for lumber is far from adequate.

NEW LOOK FOR SPRING SEEN IN VARIED STYLES, SILHOUETTES

LOCAL STORES OFFER WIDE CHOICE OF STYLES TO SUIT INDIVIDUAL TASTES

Fashions, a-borning since fall, are bursting into full flower for the prettiest spring in years! The basic trend toward softer, more feminine clothes with longer skirts and graceful curves is now established. While this trend repeats itself through all the spring collections, there is infinite variation to give a wide scope to individual preferences.

Important silhouettes, are generally, a continuation of those introduced in the fall but with significant modifications that make them even more flattering and wearable.

In many of the newer spring styles a modified skirt fullness is achieved through unpressed and accordion pleats, gathered fullness front and back, or in low-placed flares springing into fullness below the hips. Often appearing in evening dresses and a fashion to be watched is the new "flower" silhouette—a figure-defining, stem-like tube that billows out in a flounce at the knees.

The becoming "bell" silhouette with its minimized waist and full-blown skirt keeps appearing again and again in suits, coats, dresses, sportswear and separates. It is still the favorite with the junior miss. Wide commerbund sashes and belts, even tiny corselettes emphasize the hand-span waist above a circling skirt.

But there are plenty of slender skirts, too. With classic or boxy-jacketed suits the pencil-slim skirt with slits for walking is greatly favored, while the new slender skirts with side-swept or hipline drapery are a prominent feature of many spring dresses. Accepted skirt lengths for street and daytime wear may be 12 to 14 inches from the floor, while costumes for dressier occasions dip to 10 inches or ankle length.

The natural shoulder, which has been on its way in for several seasons, has definitely arrived. Padding, if used at all, is held at a minimum. Capelet, Puritan, and bertha collars carry out the soft, sloping shoulder effect.

Capes and capelets are making a strong bid for spring popularity, ranging all the way from full-length great-capes to little, ladylike shoulder capes, reminiscent of the Victorian era. Topper-length capes, as well as capelet suits, coats, and dresses are excitingly new and decidedly smart.

Finally, the "cocoon-wrapped" silhouette, a high-fashion for the daring few in the fall, is catching on everywhere for spring. Now it appears in huggable, little short-coats with deep armhole, dolman, and cape-like sleeves—a fashion that vies with the classic topper for first place on the best-seller list. These versatile drapped coats look well with either slim or full skirts and may be worn with everything from casual sports clothes to the frilliest of spring formals.

Yes, the fashions of the season offer every woman an exciting choice of styles and silhouettes suited to her individual taste, her personality, her manner of living. It's going to be a wonderful Easter, a glorious spring for you who love beautiful clothes!

THE - Diary of a 49'er

FROM THE BOOK EDITED BY C. L. CANFIELD

DECEMBER 22, 1850—This is the first I have written in three weeks. I've been to Sacramento. Pard insisted on my going; said that after nursing him through his sickness I needed a rest, so I bought a mustang and saddle, paid sixty dollars for the horse and seventy-five for the saddle and bridle. Sacramento is the liveliest place I ever saw. There are over five thousand epople living there, mostly in tents, and not more than a dozen wooden houses in the place. Hundreds of people from San Francisco are coming up the river every day, and the bank is piled up with all sorts of goods and provisions for the mines. About every tent is a gambling house and it made my head swim to see the money flying around. I had a big job hunting up North and then only found him by accident. I was almost sorry that I came across him, for I discovered that he had turned sport and was dealing "monte." He pretended to be very glad to see me and then let out that what he wanted the money for was to start a game of his own, sure that he could win a fortune. Gracious, what would Hetty and his folks say if they knew he had become a gambler. He got very chilly when I wouldn't let him have the dust but made me promise that I would not write anything home about it. He is living with a Mexican girl and I don't think they are married.

I thought a lot about Pard while I was away. We were strangers a few months ago, and now I couldn't love an own brother any better. He was just as glad to see me as I was to see him, and Jack pretended he was overjoyed. The poor old fellow, he certainly has a good time. Pard took out of the claim one hundred and twenty-two ounces while I was gone and insists on sharing it. He is mighty set when he wants to be.

Jim McCord, who lives about half mile down the creek, was held up by robbers on the divide about a week ago while on his way back from town. He showed fight and one of the highwaymen shot him in the knee, shattering the bone. Dr. Hunt has been attending him and says mortification has set in and his leg will have to be cut off. That's pretty rough on Jim.

The widow who married the young fellow at Selby Flat has shook him and come back to the Flat again. She says he was "no account," but the boys think he was glad to get rid of her.

DECEMBER 29, 1850—We decided to keep the horse, as it would be handy to ride to town and over country. Green feed is plenty, but no oats or grain to be had for love or money. We had to have some feed in case of snow, so Christmas day I rode down to Centerville and found a man who had cut some wild oats in a valley below that town. He wanted two hundred and fifty dollars a ton and fifty dollars more for relivering it to Rock Creek, and I bought it at that figure. That would cause Dad to hold up his hands, but then they don't make thirty dollars a day on an average in old Connecticut.

Graveside Services For Frank Enos

NEVADA CITY: Graveside services were held in the Catholic Cemetery here under the direction of Hooper and Weaver Mortuary, for Frank Enos, who died Thursday morning in a Nevada City hospital.

Enos was born in Indian Flat, two miles north of Nevada City, 61 years ago. He was a teamster, miner and farmer. For many years he was a ranch hand on Alta Hill ranch of Thomas Mulcahy. He was an enthusiastic horseman and hunter.

Closest surviving relatives are a nephew, Eugene Williams, and a niece, Mrs. Josephine Harris, both of Groveland, Tuolumne County.

Rev. Virgil Gabrielli was in charge of the services.

A TENSE SITUATION By Paulson

"What are you offering me, Mr. Pinion, a past with a 'present' in the future, a future with a past at present or just a past?"

WHAT LINCOLN MISSED

If Abraham Lincoln had lived today the Rotary club would have provided him with a number of good books, the Lions club a reading lamp, while the Kiwanis club would have supplied his father's cabin with a wooden floor. He would have had government protection of the minimum wage law and social security. Unemployment insurance would have been paid to him if wages offered were not satisfactory. A scholarship would have paid his way through college. A case worker would have supplemented his wages with county relief. He would have received a subsidy for rail splitting, another one for raising some crop he was going to raise anyway, and still another subsidy for not raising a crop he had no intention of raising. The rail splitters labor union would have increased his wages periodically.

Results: There would have been no Abraham Lincoln.
